Guidelines for Submission of Manuscript to Culture & Agriculture

Culture & Agriculture is a peer-reviewed journal that has an interdisciplinary readership among anthropologists and archaeologists, as well as researchers and practitioners in related fields including sociology, environmental studies, agricultural economics, food studies, policy sciences, and diverse branches of farming and natural resource management. The journal publishes brief contributions (10-15 pp.), articles (20-25 pp.), grassroots profiles, book reviews, and review essays on topics concerning agriculture, related policies and practices, and their environmental and human consequences. Submissions and related correspondence should be sent to:

James H. McDonald or Laura J. Levi, Editors
Culture & Agriculture
Division of Behavioral and Cultural Sciences
University of Texas at San Antonio
San Antonio, TX 78249-0652 USA

Authors should submit four (4) copies of their manuscript on 8 ½ x 11” paper. Manuscripts should not be under consideration elsewhere. Final drafts of accepted articles should be submitted on an IBM PC-compatible format (WordPerfect 8.0 or Word 97, or higher).

Double-space all materials, including quotations, references cited, notes, captions, and headings. Leave at least 1” margins on all sides and left justify the document. Indicate emphasis or non-English terms by underlining. Do not use italics of bold print. The manuscript should contain the following sections:

a. Title page (including the author's name, professional affiliation, mailing address, e-mail address)
b. Abstract and five keywords
c. Author's statement (current affiliation, acknowledgements, etc.)
d. Text
e. Notes (end note style; keep to an absolute minimum)
f. References Cited
g. Figures
h. Tables

Each new section should be clearly indicated by a heading. Indicate location of Figures and Tables in the text, but attach them to the end of your document. Maps and similar graphics are welcome, but author's are responsible for providing camera-ready copy, and an electronic copy (IBM PC format).

Culture & Agriculture follows the style and format of AMERICAN ANTHROPOLOGIST. In-text citations should be placed in the body of the of the text in parentheses, with the author's name, year of publication, and page (Wolf 1982:156-157), or if the author is named in the text, by year and page (1982:156-157). Up to three authors are cited using full names (Eastman, King, and Meadows 1997). Works with four or more authors are cited as: (Bromley et al. 1992). All authors names are given in full in the References Cited section. Multiple items by the same author are listed chronologically. Multiple items by the same author having the same publication date are distinguished by letters (1995a, 1995b, 1995c). Be sure to indicate inclusive pages and volume numbers for articles in periodicals, and inclusive pages and names of editors for articles in anthologies. For all other questions of style, usage, and punctuation, consult the latest edition of A Manual of Style, University of Chicago Press. More detailed information for authors can also be found on the Culture & Agriculture web page—http://csbs3.utsa.edu/culture&agriculture/