NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Initial Manuscript Submission. Submit three copies of the manuscript (including copies of tables and illustrations) to one of the editors at the following addresses:

Dr A Starling, 92 Proxy Close, Whitchurch, Tavistock, Devon PL19 9DG, UK or Professor S Hillson, Institute of Archaeology, 31–34 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0PY, UK or Dr L Eisenberg, Burial Site Preservation, State Historical Society of Wisconsin, 816 State Street, Madison, WI 53706, USA. Authors must also submit:
- an electronic copy of the final version (see section below).
- a Copyright Transfer Agreement with original signature – without this, we are unable to accept the submission and
- if the [article] contains (including illustrations) from or is based on work in or part on other copyright works (including, for the avoidance of doubt, material from on-line or intranet sources), the author, at the Publisher’s expense and in the form specified by the Publisher, will obtain from the owners of the respective copyrights written permission to reproduce those extracts in the [article] in all territories and editions and in all media of expression and languages. All necessary permission forms must be published on delivery of the [article].

Submission of a manuscript will be held to imply that it contains original unpublished work and is not being submitted for publication elsewhere at the same time. Submitted material will not be returned to the author, unless specifically requested. The editors cannot enter into correspondence about papers which are rejected as unsuitable for publication and their decision is final.

The journal is intended for the publication of original contributions. Details of work in progress, single case reports and the results of other studies which do not warrant a full paper may appear as short reports.

Final Submission. The electronic copy of the final, revised manuscript must be sent to the Editor together with the paper copy. If the disk and the paper copy differ, the paper copy will be treated as the definitive version. Disks should be PC or Mac formatted; write on the disk the software package used, the name of the author and the name of the journal. We are able to use most word processing packages, such as Word or WordPerfect and T\LaTeX\ and other derivatives. Illustrations must be submitted in electronic format where possible. Save each figure as a separate file, in TIFF or EPS format preferably, and include the source file. Write on the disk the software package used to create them; we favour desktop publishing packages over tools such as Excel or PowerPoint.

Manuscript style. All contributions must be written in English. All submissions, including book reviews, must have a title, be printed on one side of the paper, be double-line spaced and have a margin of 3 cm all round. Illustrations and tables must be printed on separate sheets, and not be incorporated into the text.
- The title page must list the full title, short title, and names and affiliations of all authors. Give the full address, including phone number and fax, of the author who is to check the proofs.
- Include the name(s) of any sponsor(s) of the research contained in the paper, along with grant number(s).
- Supply an abstract of up to 300 words for all articles (except book reviews). An abstract is a concise summary of the whole paper, not just the conclusions, and is understandable without reference to the rest of the paper. It should contain no citation to other published work.
- Include up to eight keywords that describe your paper for indexing purposes.

Reference style. References should be quoted in the text as name and year within brackets and listed at the end of the paper alphabetically. Where reference is made to more than one work by the same author published in the same year, identify each citation in the text as follows: (Collins, 1999a), (Collins, 1999b). Where there are more works by the same author listed in the reference list, please cite in the text as (Collins et al., 1998). All references must be complete and accurate. Online citations should include date of access. If necessary, cite unpublished or personal work in the text but do not include it in the reference list. References should be listed in the following style: Gerasimov, MM. 1955. Reconstruction of the Face on the Skull. Nauka: Moscow. Ingalls NW. 1927 Studies on the fermur. American Journal of Physical Anthropology. 10. 297–321. Smith PG and Moss AR. 1994. Epidemiology of tuberculosis. In Pathogenesis, Protection and Control. Bloom BR (ed.). ASM Press: Washington. DC. 47–59.

Illustrations. Supply each illustration on a separate sheet, with the lead author’s name and the figure number, with the top of the figure indicated, on the reverse. Supply original photographs: photocopied or previously printed material will not be used. Line artwork must be high-quality laser output (not photocopies). Tints are not acceptable, lettering must be of a reasonable size that would still be clearly legible upon reduction, and consistent within each figure and set of figures. Suitable artwork at the indexed size for printing. The cost of printing colour illustrations in the journal will be charged to the author. If colour illustrations are supplied electronically in either TIFF or EPS format, they may be used in the PDF of the article at no cost to the author, even if this illustration was printed in black and white in the journal. The PDF will appear on the Wiley InterScience site.

Copyright. To enable the publisher to disseminate the author’s work to the fullest extent, the author must sign a Copyright Transfer Agreement, transferring copyright in the article from the author to the publisher, and submit the original signed agreement with the article presented for publication. A copy of the agreement must be used (which may be photocopied) can be found in the first issue of each volume of the International Journal of Osteoarchaeology and on the Wiley InterScience website at www.interscience.wiley.com. Copies may also be obtained from the journal editor or publisher. It is the author’s responsibility to obtain written permission to quote or reproduce material which has appeared in another publication.

Further Information. Proofs will be sent to the corresponding author for checking. This stage is to be used only to correct errors that may have been introduced during the production process. Prompt return of the corrected proofs, preferably within two days of receipt, will minimise the risk of the paper being held over to a later issue. 25 complimentary offprints will be provided to the author who checked the proofs, unless otherwise indicated. Further offprints, and copies of the journal, may be ordered. There is no page charge to authors.
