

The Blue and Gold

Words by C. M. GAYLEY (1895)

Music from "Johnny Harvard"

Allegro

Tenors

Basses

1. Blue! Blue! Blue! Blue! Liv - ing fair and free;

Blue! Blue! true Blue! 'Bid - ing con - stant - ly;

Light that lies in maid - en's eyes, And dwells in sky and sea, Oh, that's the Blue, that heart - ens you and me.

2.

Gold! Gold! Gold! Gold!
 Burning by the Blue;
 Gold! Gold! old Gold!
 Native, tried and true;
 Ore that shines
 In priceless mines,
 Of memories old and new,
 Oh, that's the Gold that heartens me
 and you!

3.

Then here's a hand for you, for you,
 Let's toast the Blue and Gold!
 Up the song and bumpers too;
 We'll drink the love we hold!
 Eyes grow dim,
 And voices slim,
 But hearts grow never old
 That beat, that beat for love of Blue and Gold.
