South and Southeast Asia Masters’ Theses & Doctoral Dissertations, 1975-: A Brief Guide
Completed at the Department of South & Southeast Asian Studies
University of California, Berkeley

Compiled & Updated by Virginia Jing-yi Shih

As of August 2012
Introduction

This brief guide to masters’ theses and doctoral dissertations illustrates the intellectual work by our graduate students who have been benefited from the academic training by the core faculty members at the Department of South & Southeast Asian Studies and other academic departments since 1975 to the present. This is still a work in progress while I continue to update the entries as I come across any “not yet cataloged” thesis citation. I will add new thesis entries every academic year when I receive them from the Department of South & Southeast Asian Studies. Full-text access to the University of California dissertations filed since 1996 and citations for those filed prior to 1996 can be found online under Dissertations & Theses @ University of California ProQuest database:

http://proquest.umi.com/pqdweb?RQT=302&COPT=REJTPTU0OGEmU01EPTQmSU5UPTA mVkVSPTI=&clientId=1566&cfc=1

I would like to thank Lokkei Ieong, an undergraduate student who assisted me with searching the entries from OSKICAT catalog for my preliminary review and compilation.

Last but not least, I accept the full responsibility for any omissions or errors in this guide.
