STYLE GUIDE FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Please follow these guidelines very closely in preparing your manuscript. If you do not we may have to return it to you. At the very least it will cause delays in publication due to extra editorial work.

Three DOUBLE-SPACED copies of each manuscript and a 2-300 word abstract, together with a disc (either IBM compatible or Macintosh), should be submitted to the editor. Please mark your disc with your name, title of the paper, the abbreviation used on the disc, the program and the date. Maximum length of papers is normally 8,000 words, though longer articles may be published if the author has a subsidy or by negotiation with the editor. Footnotes should be used sparingly and be placed at the bottom of each page. Manuscripts—including References and Reviews—must be typed in double spacing on one side of A4 size paper, with a margin of 2.5cm all round. A title page should be included with the author's name(s), institutional affiliation (if any), full address and fax and/or e-mail number. Please italicise all foreign words, except when they are proper names. Also italicise titles of books, journal and newspapers, but not unpublished material such as manuscripts or unpublished theses. Do not underline. Manuscripts will be subjected to peer review. Proofs are not sent to authors. Authors will receive four off-prints plus a complimentary copy of the journal in which their contribution appears. Additional off-prints can be ordered at cost price on acceptance of contribution.

Authors retain copyright to their published material. The opinions expressed are those of the authors and do not necessarily express those of journal's editors nor those of the fellows and members of the Australian Anthropological Society.

References

In-text
References in the text should give the surname of the author and the year of publication in brackets, e.g. (Foucault 1967). Where applicable the page reference should follow the year of publication after a colon, for example, (Foucault 1967:21). Please note, no comma after author's name. When there are two or more authors with the same last names, use identifying initials in the text. When there are more than two authors use et al. in the text, but provide the full list of authors in the end-text reference.

For an in-text reference the punctuation mark should come after bracketed reference, e.g. "northeast regions" (Werns et al. 1992:43). For an in-text reference located at the end of an indented quote the punctuation mark should come at the end of the quote, e.g.

...otherwise known as the White Australia Policy. (White 1980:26)

For an in-text statement enclosed by inverted commas the punctuation mark should come after the closing inverted comma. i.e. "the village in the rainforest". Please use the single curled form for both quotation marks and apostrophes.

End-of-text

All references cited, and only these, should be listed under the heading References. References should be listed in alphabetical order according to author's surname where applicable and in chronological order for each author. Pay particular attention to how names are listed, to the order of names, and to punctuation. Please note—full stops are not supplied for journal articles and for the names of authors. Capitals should be used for titles but only for proper nouns in the following:

Spelling

For spelling, follow latest edition of Oxford English Dictionary, ed. James Murray. In addition, use ...ise and not ...ize. However, where such words are written in special conditions, they should not be changed.

Tables and Illustrations

Tables should appear separately from the text, and on a separate sheet. Photographs and figures should be in black and white on good quality material their sources should be cited. Copyright Act are breached. A chart.

Quotations

Quotes of five lines or more should be set off as a separate paragraph. Quotation marks are used for direct quotations.

Special Issues

Each year, at least one issue is normally devoted to a theme. For alternative possibilities, with as large a discussion as possible.
STYLE GUIDE FOR CONTRIBUTORS

names are listed, to the order of names, title, place and publisher and especially to punctuation. Please note—fullstop after (ed.) but not after (eds). Page numbers should be supplied for journal articles and for articles in edited collections. Initials only for personal names of authors. Capitals should be used for the first letters of all major words in book titles but only for proper nouns in titles of journals articles. Some referencing examples follow:

Spelling

For spelling, follow latest edition of The Macquarie Dictionary—notably this means:

...ise and not ...ize, ...isation and not ...ization, labour not labor etc.
However, where such words occur in quoted extracts in alternative forms, they should not be changed.

Tables and Illustrations

Tables should appear separately from the text. Authors are requested to keep in mind the page size of the journal when designing tables. Each figure should be submitted on a separate sheet. Photographs and line drawings should be of camera-ready quality and should be in black and white on glossy paper. If tables and illustrations are not original material their sources should be cited and an assurance given that no conditions of the Copyright Act are breached. A charge will be made for each photo.

Quotations

Quotes of five lines or more should be indented from left margin.

Special Issues

Each year, at least one issue is normally under the direction of a guest editor. Submissions of possible topics, with as large a sample of contents as possible are invited for consideration. Lead-in time for accepted collections is usually six to twelve months.
