Disciplinary Conference on Trailty: Search for Global Justice
September 2001
Hotel, UK

Articles published by Body & Society are refereed. The refereeing procedure normally takes 3-6 months. Contributors can submit articles in any major language. The language of publication is English. Please attach to every submission a letter confirming that all authors have agreed to the submission and that the article is not currently being considered for publication by any other journal.

Articles generally contain between 5000 and 7000 words. Shorter commentaries of 2000-3000 words are also invited.

Preparation of Manuscripts
Authors should send the manuscript together with an abstract of 100 to 150 words plus 5 or 6 keywords as either an email attachment to tco@ru.ac.uk and/or on disk - our preferred format is Microsoft Word for Windows. These should be accompanied by three hard copies. To protect anonymity, only the title should appear on the manuscript and the abstract. On a separate cover sheet, which will be removed for the purposes of blind refereeing, authors should supply a short biography of 50-100 words, with a full mailing address, plus electronic mail address where applicable, and telephone and fax numbers.

All copy, including indented matter, notes and references, should be typed on A4 paper, double spaced throughout and on one side of the page only, with generous left- and right-hand margins. The number and length of the notes should be strictly limited. They should be numbered serially and included at the end of the text before the reference section.

Line diagrams should be presented as camera-ready copy on glossy paper (b+w, unless to be reproduced - by arrangement - in colour) and, if possible, on disk as EPS files (all fonts embedded) or TIFF files, 800 dpi - b+w only. For scanning, photographs should preferably be submitted as clear, glossy, unmounted b+w prints with a good range of contrast or on disk as TIFF files, 300 dpi.

Format for References in the Text
Identify all references to books, monographs, articles and other sources at an appropriate point in the main text by the author's last name, year of publication, and pagination where appropriate, all within parentheses. Specify subsequent citations of the same source similarly; do not use "ibid.", "op. cit." or "loc. cit.".

If the author's name is in the text, use only the year of publication in parentheses, e.g. Archer (1988). If the author's name is not in the text, include both the author's name and year of publication separated by a comma within the parentheses, e.g. (Elia, 1982). Pagination follows year, e.g. (Williams, 1981: 45-6). With dual authorship give both names: for three or more use 'et al.', e.g. (Lash and Urry, 1987) and (Bennet et al., 1986). If there is more than one reference to the same author and year, distinguish between them by use of the letters 'a', 'b', etc. attached to the year of publication, e.g. (Foucault, 1979a).

A series of references should be enclosed within a single pair of parentheses, separated by semicolons, e.g. (Bourdieu, 1984; DeMaggio, 1987; Lamont, 1988).

Format for Reference Lists
List all entries cited in the text, or any other items used to prepare the manuscript, alphabetically by author and year of publication in a separate, headed, reference section. Please follow the examples given:

Format for Quotations within the Text
For quotations within the text, please use single inverted commas on all occasions, except for a quotation within a quotation, when double inverted commas should be used. Quotations longer than approximately 40 words should be typed in an indented paragraph format, without the use of inverted commas.

Procedures
Authors will receive proofs of their articles and, on publication, twenty-five offprints and a copy of the journal. Authors are responsible for obtaining permission from copyright holders for reproducing any illustrations, tables, figures or lengthy quotations previously published elsewhere.

Copyright: Before publication authors are requested to assign copyright to SAGE Publications, subject to retaining their right to reuse the material in other publications written or edited by themselves and due to be published at least one year after the initial publication in the journal.
