Instructions to authors

Manuscripts should be sent to the editorial address mentioned below. They may be forwarded to members of the editorial board for evaluation, but the final decision rests with the editors. Authors will be notified as quickly as possible about acceptance, rejection, or desired alterations.

When a manuscript has been accepted for publication the full text incl. notes, references and captions should be forwarded on diskette (please state format and program) with a print-out.

Papers should generally not exceed 30 printed pages (of 4500 type units). Illustrations with captions should be sent together with the text. The author will receive the first proof – which is a page proof – while the second is only read by the editor. Alterations against the manuscript will normally not be accepted.

The author will get a free supply of 30 offprints. Additional copies must be ordered in connection with the return of the proof.

Manuscripts in English will be preferred. Manuscripts in German or French should be supplied with a summary in English.

An abstract in the language of the paper should accompany the manuscript. It should be short (100–125 words), outline the main features and stress the conclusions.

Notes and references: Notes should be reserved for additional information or comments. Bibliographic references in the text are given as: Gurevich (1981: 171) or (Hobsbawm & Ranger 1983).

In the list of references the following usage is adopted:

For journals or composite works:

For books:

Typescript: Page 1 should contain (1) title, (2) name(s) of author(s), (3) abstracts, and (4) author's full postal address (including title, name and institution). The text should start on page 2.

Desired position of illustrations should be marked with pencil in left margin. Too many grades of headings should be avoided.

Long quotations should not be marked by indentations, but only indicated by quotation marks and double line spacing before and after.

Manuscripts should be sent to:
Professor Dr. Peter Niedermüller
Institut für Europäische Ethnologie
Humboldt Universität zu Berlin
Schiffbauerdamm 19
D-10117 Berlin, Germany