INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS

All manuscripts should be submitted to Martin Daly or Margo Wilson, Department of Psychology, McMaster University, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada L8S 4K1. Evolution & Human Behavior publishes primary research reports, theoretical contributions, and critical synthetic review papers. Book reviews are solicited by the editors; suggestions concerning books warranting review are welcome. Brief letters to the Editors and comments on material previously published in the journal may be considered. Manuscripts are submitted with the understanding that they are original, unpublished work and are not being submitted elsewhere.

Manuscript. Paper: Submit the original and three photocopies of the manuscript, typed double-spaced on 8 1/2 x 11 in. bond paper. On the title page include names and addresses of authors, academic or professional affiliations, and the complete address of the author to whom proofs and reprint requests should be sent. Also provide a running title of less than 45 characters and spaces, which will appear on alternate pages in the journal. Include an Abstract of not more than 200 words on the following page. Below the Abstract list Key Words that best code the contents of the article for indexing purposes. The text proper begins on the following page and ends with a citation of acknowledgments, whenever appropriate. References, tabular material, figure captions, and footnotes follow, each section beginning a new page. Tables and figures are numbered in order of their appearance with Arabic numerals and each should have a brief descriptive title. Footnotes to the text are numbered consecutively with superior Arabic numerals.

Computer Disks: Authors are encouraged to submit a 3 1/2" HD/DD computer disk to the editorial office. Please observe the following criteria. Send only hard copy when first submitting your paper for acceptance and review. When your paper has been refereed, revised if necessary, and accepted, send a disk containing the final version with the final hard copy. Make certain that the disk and hard copy match exactly. Specify what software was used, including which release, e.g., WordPerfect 6.1. Specify what computer was used (IBM compatible PC, Apple Macintosh, etc.). The article file should include all textual material (text, references, tables, figure caption etc.) and separate illustration files, if applicable. The file should follow the general instructions on style/arrangement and, in particular, the reference style of this journal as given in the Information for Authors. The file should be single spaced and should use the wrap-around end of line feature, i.e., returns at the end of paragraphs only. Place two returns after every element, such as title, headings, paragraphs, figure and table callouts. Be sure to keep a back-up disk for reference and safety.

Mathematical Notation. Use typewritten letters, numbers, and symbols whenever possible. Identify boldface, script letters, etc., at their first occurrence. Distinguish between one and the letter "I" and between zero and the letter "o" whenever confusion might result.

References. References should be prepared according to the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, Fourth Edition. Examples follow:

Illustrations. Unmounted, glossy, black and white photographs or India ink drawings on white paper should accompany the original copy of the manuscript. Photocopies are suitable for the other three copies of the manuscript. To facilitate identification and processing, on the back of each figure write the number, first author's name, and indicate which side is top. Illustrations should be mounted on white bond paper with rubber cement or glue used sparingly. Captions appear on a separate page.

Proofs and Reprints. The corresponding author will receive proofs, which should be corrected and returned within 48 hours of receipt or the article will be published without author corrections. The author is responsible for proofreading the manuscript; the publisher is not responsible for any error not marked by the author on proof. Corrections in proof are limited to printer's errors; no substantial author changes are allowed at this stage. Reprints may be ordered prior to publication; consult the price list accompanying proofs.

Copyright. Upon acceptance of an article by the journal, the author(s) will be asked to transfer copyright of the article to the publisher. This transfer will insure the widest possible dissemination of information under the U.S. Copyright Law.
