Notes for Contributors

Submissions of Articles
Submit 5 copies to Dr. Nina Glick Schiller, Identities: Global Studies in Culture and Power, Room 306, Huddleston Hall, University of New Hampshire, Durham, NH 03824, USA. Scholars from countries where there is limited access to copying facilities may submit just one copy.

All submissions to Identities are anonymously reviewed. Authors may submit a list of potential reviewers; however, the Editor is not bound by these suggestions.

Submission of an article implies that it has never been published previously in any form and has not simultaneously been offered to any other publication. It is a condition of acceptance of publication that the publisher acquires the copyright of the paper throughout the world.

Authors should provide an abstract of 150 words or less. Five key words should accompany the abstract.

Format
While the primary language of publication is English, the journal will review articles in other languages. Articles must be typed on one side of the paper only, double-spaced with one-inch margins on 8½ x 11 in. (23.6 x 28 cm) or 2 quatro (A4). Endnotes and references should also be double-spaced, each printed separately and placed at the end of the article. The preferred length is 20 to 40 manuscript pages. Manuscript pages must be numbered.

The publisher encourages authors to submit accepted manuscripts on computer disk. Word Perfect is the preferred software. Please label the disk with the title of paper, author's name and the word processing program used.

Authors of accepted manuscripts will be required to submit copies which conform to the format of Identities and authors are encouraged to send their articles in this format. However, initial submissions will be reviewed in alternative formats.

In all cases, for anonymity in the review process, names, affiliations and complete mailing addresses of the authors should appear on a separate title page, together with acknowledgments. Articles should be accompanied by a current mailing address and a brief description of the author's research interests and publications.

References
References are indicated by the name and date system: Either "Recent work" (Smith 1991) or "Recently, Smith (1992) has found . . ." The full list of references should be collected at the end of the paper in alphabetical order. Only references cited in the text should be listed. Journal titles and details of reports issued by governmental bodies and others should be given in full. Please state the place of publication and publisher. Multiple references to work in the same year should be labelled, e.g. 1992
Examples:

Figures

All figures and illustrations must be of sufficient quality for direct reproduction. They should be numbered consecutively with Arabic numerals, have short descriptive captions and be mentioned in the text. Keep separate from the text, but indicate the position for each in the margin. Line drawings should be prepared in India ink on white paper, with all lettering and symbols included. Photographs should be good quality, high contrast, glossy prints (approximately 8 x 10 in.). Note author’s name and number the back of each photo in pencil. Indicate the top where it is not obvious.

Tables

All tabular material should be separate from the text, numbered consecutively with Arabic numerals. Each table should be printed on a separate sheet, double-spaced, and identified by a short descriptive caption centered at the top. Notes for tables appear at the bottom of each table and are marked with lowercase, superscript letters. Marginal notations should indicate the approximate placement of tables.

Proofs

Authors will receive page proofs (including illustrations) by air mail for correction, which must be returned to the printer within 48 hours of receipt. Please ensure that a full postal address is given on the first page of the manuscript so that proofs will arrive delay. Author’s alterations over 10% of the original composition cost will be charged to authors.

Reprints

The publisher will supply 25 free reprints of each paper to the first-named author. Further reprints may be ordered by completing the appropriate form sent with proofs.
