NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Scope
The Journal of Religion in Africa is interested in all religious traditions and all their forms, in every part of Africa, and is open to every methodology. Its contributors include scholars working in history, anthropology, sociology, political science, minstrelsy, literature and related disciplines. It is happy on occasion to publish exceptionally long articles and it welcomes religious texts in their original African language. Presenting a unique forum for the debate of theoretical issues in the analysis of African religion and ritual past and present, the JRA also encourages the development of new methodologies.

Manuscripts
Original submissions should be in two hard copies, but discs should not be supplied until requested by the editors after revisions have been completed. An abstract of 100-150 words should precede the text.

Manuscripts must be double-spaced, with margins of at least 2.5 cms (1") all round, printed on one side of the paper only, pages numbered centre bottom, left-hand justified, right-hand unjustified, with no hyphenation at the end of lines. Font size must be no smaller than 11 in Times New Roman.

Single quotation marks are to be used except for quotations within quotations.

Endnotes rather than footnotes should be used. The system of referencing should be absolutely consistent throughout. Authors are encouraged to provide a separate bibliography, so that references in notes can be brief.

Fuller guidelines may be obtained from Ingrid Lawrie, Department of Theology and Religious Studies, University of Leeds, Leeds LS2 9JT, UK (e-mail: i.lawrie@leeds.ac.uk).

Offprints
Authors of articles are entitled to 25 complimentary offprints of their published article and a copy of the issue in which their article appears. Reviewers receive one copy of the issue in which their review appears.

This journal is printed on acid-free paper.
