Museum Anthropology, the journal of the Council for Museum Anthropology, welcomes contributions of relevance to museum anthropology and the study of material culture broadly conceived. Museum Anthropology publishes articles, commentaries, review articles, exhibition and book reviews, research notes, listings of current exhibitions, obituaries, and announcements. The views expressed are those of the authors and not necessarily those of the Council or its officers.

Exhibition reviews, book and catalogue reviews, and review articles are solicited by the editors; authors who wish to review particular exhibitions or publications may identify themselves to the Editor.

Museum Anthropology follows the fourteenth edition of The Chicago Manual of Style for most matters of style, including hyphenation, capitalization, punctuation, abbreviations, and grammar, and Webster’s New World Dictionary (1988) for spelling.

Submit manuscripts in triplicate (original and two copies) to the Editor. Manuscripts must be typed double-spaced, without justified margins. If an article is accepted for publication, authors must be prepared to submit the manuscript on computer diskette, preferably in Word 6 for Windows, with a label clearly identifying the type of word processor used and the operating system (e.g., PC or Mac). Please do not send a diskette until asked to do so by the Editor.

Use italics, not underlining, for book and exhibition titles. Footnotes/endnotes should not be embedded in the word processor (i.e., do not use your software’s footnote or endnote command), but should appear as superscripts (if possible) in the text and numbered (e.g., 1.) at the end of the article. References (indicated by author’s last name, year of publication, and relevant page numbers) should be placed in parentheses in the body of the text: e.g., (Boas 1887:587; Lips 1966:189-94). Complete bibliographic references should be typed after the notes, and should follow the style below:

Boas, Franz

Lips, Julius E.

Rubin, William, ed.

Schapiro, Meyer
