which they might pro-
ly by other scholars.
But the cruel internal war in Ivory Coast
and Sierra Leone
has drastically reduced archaeological pros-
tPing in these regions.
Keenan reports with unease the plight of refugees on the move,
and the destruction of archaeological sites by conflict and looting.

In this context, Keenan's work becomes even more relevant and urgent,
offering a glimpse into
the past and providing insights into the present and future of the region.

Keenan invites the reader to reflect on the traumatic experiences
of dislocation, loss,
and the search for new homes. The search for belonging and identity forms a central theme in the book,
highlighting the resilience
of the human spirit.

NOTES TO CONTRIBUTORS

Contributions on any aspect of archaeology will be considered for publication in Papers from the Institute of Archaeology. All contributions and related correspondence should be addressed to The Editors, Papers from the Institute of Archaeology, Institute of Archaeology, University College London, 31-34 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0PY, UK. E-mail: tcnpia@ucl.ac.uk. The following notes are provided as a guide to potential contributors in the preparation of their material.

1) Text: A full page of text in PIA is approximately 520 words. Contributions should not normally exceed 10 such pages excluding figures, captions and bibliography. Papers should be typewritten using Times New Roman at 12 points, lines should be double spaced and paragraphs justified. Hardcopy submissions should be printed on one side of A4 paper (approx. 30cm x 21cm). An abstract of c. 200 words must accompany the text.

Reviews of recent books, conferences and exhibitions along with fieldwork reports are also encouraged - please contact the editors first to ensure there is no duplication. These submissions should not exceed approximately three pages (c. 1500 words).

Three copies of the typescript should be submitted. If accepted, the authors will be asked to provide a digital copy of the revised text on disk (preferably in Microsoft Word format).

2) Footnotes: These must be avoided.

3) Bibliographic references: Cite in alphabetical and ascending chronological order (e.g., Awe et al. 1990a, 1990b, 1991, 1992; Baruch and Bottema 1991; Hodder et al. 1995; Marcus 1974, 85; Reynolds 1999). Citations with more than three authors should be abbreviated with ‘et al.’ after the first author. Please ensure that all in text citations are matched by the bibliographic references.

Full references should be listed alphabetically according to the author’s name at the end of the paper. For example:

4) Line drawings, plans and maps: These should be drawn on strong paper, thin card or good quality tracing film. Lettering should be done using stencilling or self-adhesive lettering. Digital images will be accepted in the following formats: JPEG and TIFF. Two versions should be submitted: 1. the original and, 2. a greyscale copy of no more than 900kb. Any digital images should be accompanied by a laser-printed hard copy. All line illustrations should be of a shape suitable for reduction to a full page (195mm x 120mm).

5) Photographs: These should be printed on glossy paper and mounted on thin card. Digital images will be accepted in the following formats: JPEG and TIFF. Two versions should be submitted: 1. the original and, 2. a greyscale copy of no more than 900kb. Any digital images should be accompanied by a laser-copied hard copy.

6) Tables: These should be titled and numbered.

7) Captions and legends: A list of captions and legends should be provided on a separate sheet (digital or hardcopy); original photographs, illustrations etc. (if hardcopy) should be numbered in soft pencil only, if digital, their titles should contain the name of the author and the figure number e.g. (townerd4.jpg). All captions should correspond with bracketed references in the text, e.g. (fig. 4).

Please ensure copyright has been obtained for the use of any images, line drawings, maps, etc. If in doubt please contact the PIA editors.

8) Dating conventions should be as follows:
   - Uncalibrated radiocarbon determinations as BP complete with laboratory code and standard deviation e.g. BM-2646 2680±50 BP
   - Calibrated determinations as Cal BC or Cal AD, quoted as a date range.
   - Calendar dates as BC (quoted after the figure) or AD (quoted before the figure) e.g. c. 600 BC - AD 250.

9) Submission date: Research Papers should be received not later than 31 March. Reviews not later than 1 July and Fieldwork Reports not later than 1 September for inclusion in the following year’s volume. Papers will not be accepted unless complete with abstract, references and all illustrations, captions, etc.
