    - Trainings forthcoming, but may be easier for CSD to build centralized dashboards
  - GreenGlass for Serials
    - GreenGlass for Serials is on track to be implemented by December/January with trainings in January
  - Scholarly Resources budget reduction page
    - Please refer faculty with question about the collections budget reduction to this page
    - If selectors cannot answer a question, they can direct questions to scholarly-resources@lists.berkeley.edu (more communication guidance is forthcoming)
  - Transformative Agreements FAQ
    - Will be added to SLM in early October
    - ScholComm is a resource to help selectors, and selectors may be asked to help ScholComm to provide input on publishers they may be working with. If asked to do a review of a title for a TA or OA investment, please do so. Resources & how-to linked from Selector Liaison Manual
<https://slm.lib.berkeley.edu/resources-to-conduct-open-access-investment-reviews/>
    - Lowered threshold for the OA investment costs ($2000, down from $5000)
- Feedback from councils/divisions on training priorities?
  - Feedback is forthcoming from subject councils after their October meetings. CSC will revisit this topic in November.
- Minute taker instructions
  - Minute taker instructions were approved.

- A question about moving to a running google doc for our minutes was raised. Other councils would be interested in this as well. Jesse will check with LIT if this is possible for our minutes.
- Update from the Serials Reduction and Savings Distribution Group
  - Will begin evaluating Alma dashboards using Sushi data in late October. Dashboards will assist selectors with the cancellation project.
  - Looking at criteria for serials cancellations
  - DILIS fund: will be looking at how to handle subject specific resources paid out of the fund
  - Next meeting: will discuss Unsub
  - Similar to the space plan, Serials Reduction and Saving Group, along with the divisions, will share reduction lists with faculty. Lists will be shared with faculty by mid-March with feedback due in early May.
- Selector Drop-ins after the budget update
  - Are these helpful?
    - The budget tends to be announced at the beginning of the fall semester, which makes it difficult to attend drop-ins
    - Ideas to better share information/support:
      - provide a program or a theme to help people understand how to engage in discussion
      - would CSD consider coming to the subject council meetings? This solution could cover the programmatic aspect and people already have time set aside to attend these meetings.
      - Occasional in-person drop-in with Jo Anne may motivate folks to get together and discuss
  - Shipping costs will be analyzed when Mark returns
    - Shipping costs have been centralized with Alma
    - Last fiscal year's shipping increases (approx 40%) were covered by the central budget.
- Topics for future CSC
  - Brittle books
